CITY READY TO CONFIRM WATER RIGHTS IN COURT

Around the Square

If you noticed a strange face at your supper table or in your yard, call Bud Johnson, 360 Arcadia. It just might be the family's pet monkey that has been AWOL since Sunday. The monkey ran away while its cage was being cleaned.

T. Guy Cornyn last week resigned as city attorney of Arcadia. He gave up this $600 a month job so as to be able to spend more time on his private practice, but will continue as Sierra Madre's city attorney at $300 a month.

Mr. Cornyn is "very happy" as the legal eagle here, but, although no one would admit it, it was believed that the Arcadia City Council was pressing Mr. Cornyn with too many non-legal duties. As a matter of fact, Arcadia found itself with a most efficient part-time "city manager."

It was more the press of administrative duties that were unwittingly passed onto Mr. Cornyn that forced him to give up the direction of Arcadia's legal problems.

We understand the man who made the rules and regulations for Saturday's Pioneer Days Parade was the first and only person to break same. You did a swell job as Parade Chairman, just the same, Sterling.

We liked the sign posted on the Pioneer Days Parade entry of the Sierra Madre City School Teachers' Club. It said:

Curtain Falls
On Pioneer
Days' Events

The curtain reluctantly came down on the 4th Annual Pioneer Days celebration Saturday night with the closing of the carnival and concessions.

Although the Sierra Madre Lions, representatives from other community organizations operating concessions, and the throngs of people taking part in the proceedings admitted they were tired, they all agreed the event was fun and certainly worthwhile.

Sterling T. Ripple, parade chairman, summed it up when he said: "Even though several of the organization-operated booths may not have earned as much money as had been hoped, they still gained a lot in a less tangible way."

"A new feeling of community unity was evidenced by the way so many groups and individuals cooperated in making Pioneer Days a success. And everyone enjoyed seeing so many youngsters taking part."

The 1950 Pioneer Days carnival marked the first time other clubs and groups had been invited to operate booths. In other years, the Lions Club had handled all concessions themselves.

Lions Club executive committee for the four-day event included Mr. Ripple, Carl Peterson, president, Ralph (Pappy) Welch, and Sidney Hamill.

GOOD READERSHIP

Sierra Madreams really read the NEWS' ads.

Acclaimed as the most colorful event in recent Sierra Madre history, Saturday's 4th Annual Pioneer Days Parade was witnessed by hundreds of residents and San Gabriel Valley visitors.

Led by Grand Marshal Percy L. Bonebrake and directed by Lions Club Parade Chairman Sterling T. Ripple, the parade featured a record-breaking registration of 105 individual and group entries.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Harry L. Embree Post and Woman's Auxiliary won the sweepstakes trophy with their elaborate float—a replica of an old-time railroad locomotive, coal car, and passenger coach.

Designed by Manuel de la Torre, the float was painted pink and named the "City of Sierra Madre Special." Riding in the canopied passenger coach were women of the VFW Auxiliary. All passengers and trainmen were dressed in costumes and uniforms typical of pioneer days.

In the Novelty Mobile Floats for Children division, the Community Nursery School Association's entry won first prize. Two ponies wearing leis pulled a comical covered wagon bearing sun-bonneted youngsters of the Nursery School.

Terry Evans and his midget-midget racing auto placed second in this division, and the Sierra Group won the third.

Council Studies Danger
At City Baseball Games

Possibility of property damage and injury to persons from hard-hit baseballs at city park ball games was considered at Tuesday's meeting of the City Council.

As a result, the recreation committee of the council and representatives of the VFW's sports committee will meet this evening to discuss how the alleged danger can be eliminated.

The matter came when a letter was read from Bryant R. Burton, a property owner on Claridge avenue, Arcadia—property which directly adjoins the third base line of the ball park.

In the letter, Mr. Burton said he was completing the construction of a new home on this property which will have "four large plate glass windows" facing the ball diamond. "The problem which concerns me most... is not the property damage which may be incurred by the baseballs, but the danger of serious personal injury being inflicted upon the residents of houses in this area," Mr. Burton wrote.

He said that in Sunday's game, two balls went into the yard and one went through the opening where the plate glass window will be installed and into the living room of the house.

Mr. Burton said he had talked with Director of Public Works Harry H. Shatto on the problem and with Larry Shepherd, manager of the VFW Raiders baseball team.

Mr. Shatto, he said, made two suggestions. One was that the backstop be enlarged so that it could act as a com-

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR DAY CAMP

Plans were underway this week for a two-week summer Day Camp to be conducted by the Sierra Madre Recreation Commission.

Tentative dates, Aug. 7 to 19, have been set for the camp, which will be supervised by Recreation Director Samuel E. McElfresh.

According to Al E. Morgan, Recreation Commission chairman, present plans call for the Day Camp to be divided into two one-week camps—the first week (Aug. 7 to 12) being attended by boys, and the second week featuring activities for girls.

ROBERT MATTER is presented trophy for his outstanding athletic and scholastic record at Church of the Ascension Parish Day School. The trophy was donated by the Ascension Mothers' Club and presented by the church rector, the Rev. Harley G. Smith Jr. It will be awarded each year to the pupil demonstrating the best leadership and Christian Citizenship traits and the best academic and athletic achievements.

Action Will Solve
Water Problems

Sierra Madre this week was prepared to go to court to confirm its water rights.

These rights will solve the city's possessive water problems if carried out to their fullest extent, for all time—and may in the meantime provide the city with a taxfree income of approximately $20,000 per year, councilman Herman Barter said.

Last Tuesday, the council approved a stipulation on water rights which Arcadia had okayed a month ago at Sierra Madre's request.

This stipulation will allow Sierra Madre to circumvent what many persons had considered an "iron clad" agreement on water distribution between this city and Arcadia.

Sierra Madre will ask the superior court to confirm a stipulation which, after months of negotiations, had been agreed to by this city, Arcadia and the State Division of Water Resources.

Under this stipulation, Sierra Madre will be able to realize approximately 1000-acre feet of water a year in addition to its present right of 12,064 feet under the Alhambra-Pasadena adjudication of 1943. In the "distant future" this amount may reach 1400 acre feet.

This water will come from the Big Santa Anita. It is water which previously has flowed to the ocean and been wasted.

It is water which has always been there but which no one has ever done anything about despite continual cries of "water shortage" and "water conservation."

Under the supervision of Councilman Barter, the program which led to this action was begun nearly two years ago.

This program includes not only the conservation of water

Canyon Pool Opens Sunday
For Summer Swimming

Sierra Madre's Canyon Pool will officially open for summer swimming Sunday, June 18.

Operated by the Recreation Commission, the pool will remain open daily, except Mondays, through Saturday, Sept. 9. According to Recreation Commission Chairman Al E. Morgan, pool hours will be from 12 noon to 5 p. m.

Mr. Morgan said swimming rates for youngsters up to 12 years of age would be 15 cents; for youths 13 to 18, 25 cents; and for adults, 35 cents.

Last year, it was pointed out, the youngest age bracket got in for a dime. Following the pool season, however, the Recreation Commission discovered the 10-cent rate was not tax exempt.

"The extra nickle is to cover that additional tax," Mr. Morgan explained.

Sierra Madre Police Officer Daniel Rauscher again will serve as pool manager, and Warren Peterson will repeat as the lifeguard.

Dates for the annual swimming classes of the American Red Cross will be announced soon, Mr. Morgan said.

This season will mark the third consecutive year the city swimming pool has been operated by the Recreation Commission.

Residents Give
$172 to Sister

Sierra Madreams donated an additional $30 this week to make the city's total $172 in the Sister Kenny Polio Foundation money-raising drive.

The drive had been extended 15 days in Sierra Madre and other cities of the county in an attempt to boost lagging returns. Mrs. Marie La Sala, local chairman, said the campaign will end today, June 15.

Residents still wishing to contribute are asked to contact Mrs. La Sala today at her home, 648 Manzanita.

City Still In 'Muddle'
On Streets

The city council this week found itself in more of a muddle on the street problem than it was last week.

And this muddle had changed only for the worst from a year ago.

Under pressure, the council decided it would have to meet in an adjourned session next Saturday morning to consider still other revised plans for the reconstruction of Baldwin avenue.

Unfortunately, the council learned Tuesday night, the city may not be in a position to put in a storm drain on Baldwin avenue after all.

City Engineer Harry Shatto told the council that he had discovered a plot on the part of the federal government to install its own storm drain the full length of Baldwin avenue.

Last year, former City Engineer Fred Pack drew plans and specifications for the redevelopment of Baldwin avenue including storm drains on the west side of the street, at a cost of $1200 to the city. Shatto then re-drew the plans for the council, on motion of Herman Barter, ordered Shatto to re-advertise for bids on plans which already had been approved by the state.

Shatto, however, told the council last Tuesday that the federal government has contemplated—since 1941—the installation of its own storm drains on Baldwin avenue.

Shatto said that the federal schedule called for the storm

Osti's Beard
Wins Contest

Johnny Osti was declared a double winner at Saturday night's concluding Pioneer Days ceremonies.

Mr. Osti, who lives at 271 Grove, won the $20 first prize in the Beard-Growing Contest. His growth was described as "the longest beard" by Mike the Barber, judge of the contest.

Another award—a large bronze trophy—also was presented Johnny for his "overall contribution to the success of Pioneer Days." Mr. Osti is reported to have sold a total 104 Lions Club Shave Permits to male residents of Sierra Madre.

Second prize, $10 cash, in the Beard Contest went to Edward N. Voorhees, 58 W. Miramonte, for his "neatest beard."

For having the "roughest beard in Sierra Madre," Ray Shields of 395 Mariposa was awarded the $5 third-prize prize.

Prizes for the Beard-Growing Contest were provided by the Lions Club.

Whew . . . !

A lotta paper went into last week's Fourth Annual Pioneer Days Edition—half a ton of newspaper, to be exact.

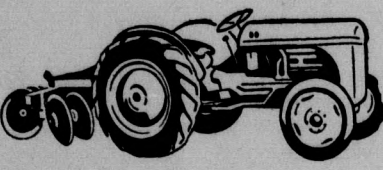

The edition also represented the largest number of newspapers ever circulated in Sierra Madre.

She will make five personal appearances in all, three nights in the pageant "Shasta Cavalcade" June 16-17-18, and twice at Shasta Dam events—including the formal dedicatory ceremony June 17.

Missionary Talks Heard At Bethany

Several speakers took part in the monthly Missionary Society meetings at Bethany Church, starting at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday morning, June 6.

N. Paul V. Gupta, a high caste Hindu, now a student at the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, spoke at 11. Mr. Gupta was born in Duganapalli, Cuddapah District, India, and for 12 years served as an evangelist there. He is preparing to return soon to India and found a Bible Institute in the southern sector.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Dewey Mulholland, wife of the associate pastor of Bethany, spoke at 1:20.

At 2 o'clock, Dawson E. Trotman, president of the Navigators, a Christian organization to aid service men, was heard.

He explained the working of this group whose main objective is to memorize the Scripture and augment missionary efforts throughout the world.

Mrs. Gill Improved, Returns to New Home

Friends of Mrs. H. B. Gill will be happy to learn that on June 17 she plans to return to Sierra Madre where she and the J. J. McGowan will share their attractive new home at 262 Ramona Ave.

In January Mrs. Gill suffered a stroke necessitating giving up her home in Sierra Madre and entering a rest home in Pasadena. A second stroke in April has kept her confined to her bed for several weeks with a nurse in constant attendance.

Here's Chance to Do Some Fishing

Here's your chance, kids. A deep-sea "Kids' Fishing Party" is being planned for Tuesday, June 27, under the sponsorship of the Arcadia Sporting Goods Store, 207 S. First street, Arcadia.

There's room for 100 youngsters on the all-day excursion, and participants will be selected on a first-come, first-served basis. Children wishing to take part must register at the store.

Transportation and supervision will be handled by the Arcadia Sporting Goods Store, and 12 adults will go along as chaperones. Everyone will be covered by insurance from the time he leaves the store at 7 a.m. until he returns in the afternoon.

The fishing expedition will shove off from the Pierpont Queen, just inside the Long Beach breakwater. Prizes will be given for the largest edible fish caught.

FIRE FLAMES

SPECIAL REQUEST! Because someone on the line refused to relinquish the telephone to an urgent request from a frantic woman who wanted to report her house on fire, there was a delay in the fire department receiving the call.

Because we rely so much on telephones in Sierra Madre for emergency use, there is nothing so important that should ever interfere with an emergency call.

Because we rely so much on the telephone, we should never use a fake emergency call to get someone off the line. Matters could be serious. Lives may be in danger.

As long as we MUST depend on telephones to send in our fire and police calls, it is advisable that residents get together and practice a little co-operation. There may come a time when your own house is on fire or you need help. (Remember the story about the boy and the wolf.)

The growth of weeds was good this year. The men who are trying to remove them are having much trouble getting the stuff underground. The vacant lots throughout the city are becoming less each year, but on the other hand there are more houses to protect from the danger of fire.

From now on, we are obligated to think of the danger. "Remember the Dairy Fire!" There are lots of residents who do not know of that terrible fire and the anxiety it caused. Were we to get a fire like that started in the midst of a row of houses, with no vacant lots between—we'll, there's just no use thinking about it. It makes a fellow sick to realize what would happen.

Get FIRE CONSCIOUS and STAY that way. It is another of Sierra Madre's traditions. Everybody is fire conscious. We hope.

The fire fighters and their families are planning the annual Fourth of July picnic. This year Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thayer have offered their Wistaria Gardens to the fire department for the occasion. The offer is appreciated to the nth degree and all declare the spot ideal. Last year the event was enjoyed at the city's own grounds, but due to so many other affairs there, the fire department really is happy to accept the offer of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thayer.

The Fourth of July picnic is almost as traditional with the fire department as the Christmas Party. It is held for the sole purpose of keeping the fire-fighters at hand in case of fire.

In the past, the merry Fourth was a day when fires almost could be expected, due to carelessness in the use of fireworks.

It is with a great deal of reluctance that the matter of fireworks be mentioned because of the difference of opinion. Some think that we should still permit the use of dangerous fireworks, despite the fact that the past years have brought much sadness to many families throughout the nation.

Not only is the use of fireworks dangerous to those who use them, but it is a terrific fire hazard. There is a California state law that forbids the use and sale of certain types of fireworks. And yet they get into our city.

It is regrettable to think that when our own merchants are so cooperative to prevent the use here, out-of-town merchants

Annual June Fair At British Home

The British Old People's Home will hold their Annual June Fair at the Home, 647 Manzanita, Saturday, June 17, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mrs. H. Holt, president of the Home, heads the affair and Mrs. John Aiten is general chairman. Committee members include: Mesdames John Ferguson, Watson, Newton, Stevens, Hampshire and Sedden.

Some of the guests expected are: the British Consul General and staff; Annette Kellerman, Australian swimmer, and Alan Mowbray, actor.

Nursery Auxiliary Will Sponsor Tea

Honoring new members of the organization, the Community Nursery School Auxiliary will sponsor a Welcoming Tea Friday, June 16, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Schmidt, 290 E. Montecito.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring the event in cooperation with Mrs. Howell N. White Jr., chairman of the group's membership committee.

Mrs. Norman Davidson will serve as chairman for table service and food arrangements. Baby-sitting during the tea, 3 to 5 p.m., will be offered at the Nursery School.

sell them.

Parents should make every effort to aid in eliminating the dangerous fireworks. Sure, we used to use 'em. I, for one, am a lucky guy. Once we filled a metal pipe with enough black powder and other ingredients to blow heck out of the ground. If that piece of shrapnel that missed me, had hit me—well, that's all, brothers, that's all.

There are many ways to enjoy the Fourth of July without endangering the fingers and lives of people and besides maybe burning someone out of a home.

Let's discourage the use of fireworks by children.—And don't forget to clean off the dry weeds about the place. If you do, you will be doing all of us a good turn as well as yourself.

A spark from far off may land in that dry stuff and—who knows? Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

Tarullo Wins Award For Radio Script

Anthony Tarullo, 310 N. Mountain Trail, was honored recently by winning $25 first prize in the first annual radio script writing contest sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California.

Mr. Tarullo, a Pasadena City College student; won on his first attempt at writing a radio script. He is planning to make writing his life work.

Anthony's script is entitled "The Fifty Dollar Bottle" and tells what happens when a bus driver gets drunk and wrecks his bus. Mr. Tarullo obtained his material from a short news item appearing in the daily press. The script presents a cross-section of human life.

Mr. Tarullo is president of the PCC Sigma Tau Delta Chapter, national honorary creative writing fraternity.

Bowers Joins PCC Drama Fraternity

Climaxing his stage activities at Pasadena City College, Robert Bowers, 686 Brookside Lane, has been pledged in Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity.

Robert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bowers, is a graduating senior at PCC. He plans to make stage technology work his life career.

In a letter received recently by Mr. Bowers, PCC Chapter President William Vasse stated: "Congratulations for your outstanding work in dramatic programs at PCC. In view of your attitude toward bettering citizenship and dramatic activities, as well as staging techniques on campus, and your cooperation at all times, we feel it an honor to invite you into our membership of Delta Psi Omega."

Rites End School Year At Ascension

Closing exercises for the school year at Church of the Ascension Parish Day School were held Friday morning, June 9.

School Principal Sister Noel, C.S.M., announced awards to individuals and groups in all the grades for cooperation and responsibility, as well as in recognition of outstanding achievement in studies and athletics.

In the sixth grade, these awards included Michael Hutcherson, Edwin Hupp, John McKinley and Patrick Sewall. Robert Matter, who is completing the seventh grade, was presented a trophy for his outstanding scholastic and athletic record. The trophy was donated by the Mothers' Club and presented by the rector, the Rev. Harley G. Smith Jr. It will be awarded annually for Christian citizenship, leadership, character and scholarship.

In making the presentation to Robert, Father Smith pointed out that the boy has won the respect and confidence of students and teachers for his capable and friendly leadership.

Earlier in the spring, Mrs. Helen H. Elliott, fourth and fifth grade teacher and principal for the first two years of the school, was presented a purse by the Mothers' Club. Mrs. Elliott is retiring this year.

Sister Noel noted that the next school year again will include kindergarten through the first seven grades. She pointed out that nearly all the students are returning next year, so it has been possible to accept only a few new pupils.

Comedy Acts Set for Elks Charity Circus

Comedy and thrills will play an important part in the forthcoming Monrovia Elks Charity Circus, being held at the Santa Anita Race Track Saturday, June 24, at 8 p. m.

Agonizing thrills will be a certainty when Lynn and Linda perform their high act at 100 feet in the air, with pedestal and gymnastic routines no other act in the world can equal.

By this stipulation, it was presumed that court approval would be only a matter of routine because only Arcadia and Sierra Madre have pumping rights in the recognized Eastern basin. No objection by the court is anticipated.

The stipulation anticipates the concrete lining of the Big Santa Anita channel by the U. S. Engineers during the next 10 years, and it provides for 1420 acre feet of natural water percolation in this channel.

Because of this provision, the State Division of Water Resources has provided for a so-called water "bank account." Under this set-up, Sierra Madre will be able to draw water annually on its anticipated long range water conservation program without interference with its decreed water rights of 1264 acre feet a year.

of the big Santa Anita but also of the run off from the Little Santa Anita. From the Little Santa Anita alone this city should realize at least 300 acre feet a year additionally. This estimate of water yield is based upon long term averages.

The stipulation, which has been approved by both the Sierra Madre and Arcadia city councils, provides that Sierra Madre shall have this additional water each year despite rainfall.

It will be determined, not on a year-to-year basis, but on a long-term average as specified by the State Division of Water Resources. This stipulation, which was unanimously adopted by the Arcadia council, was considered to be a triumph both for Sierra Madre residents and Councilman Barter, who has worked out details of the program during the past two years.

This water will become available to the city as soon as a diversion structure from the big Santa Anita is completed. The structure will cost approximately $150,000.

Both state and county funds totaling $95,000 is available for this project. The balance of city water department money is also available. The diversion structure and a 10,000 pipe line, in addition to re-working of the spreading grounds, will not be reflected in the city tax rate.

Under the agreement with Arcadia and the Division of Water Resources, Sierra Madre's right to sell water outside the limits of the East Raymond Basin has been confirmed.

It was pointed out that Arcadia has "exported" water from the basin area under the original Udell vs. Arcadia decision of 1930.

Barter said that in order to establish a firm prescriptive right to the water that the city conserves through its spreading grounds, customers would have to be found for its excess water.

Right to a total of 1500 acre feet of water from the Big Santa Anita alone each year already has been granted Sierra Madre by the state. In addition, the city now has before the State Division of Water Resources an application for additional surplus water from the Big Santa Anita. In the estimation of Conklin, the second application would, as a practical matter, net the city an additional 248 acre feet of water a year.

By this stipulation, it was presumed that court approval would be only a matter of routine because only Arcadia and Sierra Madre have pumping rights in the recognized Eastern basin. No objection by the court is anticipated.

'Sunday School in The Hills' Planned

A "Sunday School in the Hills," has been planned by the Congregational Church for this Sunday, June 18, from 8 to 10 a. m.

The trip will include an outdoor worship service and a three-fourth of a mile hike to "Sawpit Fall" in Monrovia Canyon Park.

Family groups are to travel in cars to the park, arriving before 8 a. m., when breakfast will be prepared and served. Each family is to furnish its own food and paper table service. Coffee will be served.

Philip Mitchell explained that all Sierra Madreans, regardless of church affiliation, are invited to take part in the outdoor Sunday School and breakfast.

"It is to be a city-wide event," Mr. Mitchell said.

Youngsters or adults having no transportation to the park should meet at the Congregational Church at 7:30.

spreading grounds that have been maintained here for the past 15 years.

This action of the council, which will go before the superior court, will allow Sierra Madre to sell excess water which it has conserved.

Water Engineer Harold Conklin, in his $4700 report to the city, said that no more than 2650 acre feet would ever be needed within the city's present boundaries.

To help maintain the "safe yield" of the Eastern Basin, the County Flood Control will build its own spreading grounds in the Big Santa Anita channel.

The flood control district will maintain the natural percolation of 1420 acre feet after the channel is lined with its own spreading grounds in the Big Santa Anita channel.

drain in 1954 but that "because everything is two years behind schedule" it probably will be 1956 before anyone gets around to doing it.

The council, therefore, was faced with the problem of what to do—fix the streets now—or wait for the federal government to put in a storm drain so that it could require the federal government to surface the street that it tore up for a federal storm drain.

Faced with this problem of what to do, the council adjourned until Saturday.

Shatto admitted that the whole thing depended upon "if" the federal government did anything "and that is a big IF," he said.

"We don't have a drainage problem that won't wait six years," Shatto said.

"But we have hazards on Baldwin avenue to consider," Councilman Noren Eaton said.

"I still think we ought to hold out for an adjourned meeting," Mayor William Kinney said.

"But we've got to do something about this," Councilman Henry Korsemeier said.

"Why don't we just drop Baldwin avenue and start paving some of the other streets?" Eaton asked.

A little hope, however, was held out to Sierra Madreans when Shatto brought in a proposal for work to be done on many streets.

He said that the amount of work necessary to place city streets in "a state of repair before the rainy season beginning December of 1950" would cost $70,000.

Here are the streets that Shatto said should be "seal coated":

Orange Grove, Manzanita, Bonita, Ramona, Mariposa, Montecito, Highland, Grandview, Alegria, Fairview, Olive, Mira Monte, Carter, Elm, San Gabriel Court, Santa Anita Court, Sunnyside, Park, Lima, Hermosa, Adams, Auburn, Baldwin, Canon, Coburn, Sycamore Place, Los Rocas, Sturtevant, Woodland, Holly Trail, Vista Circle and Alta Vista.

Korsemeier moved, and the council adopted, that Shatto put this street repair plan on a map and make a break down of costs street-by-street, establish a priority and tell the council where the money is coming from.

The city now has, and has had for 14 months in the bank, nearly $100,000 that can be used only for street repairs.

'Of Men and Mountains' At Library

By Isabel Stradley

"Of Men and Mountains" by William O. Douglas is an exciting story of physical adventure and spiritual discovery.

Justice Douglas nearly died of infantile paralysis as a young boy. Left out of boyhood pursuits, humiliated by his schoolmates when he dragged his rickety legs to school, he started hiking around his home woods in Yakima, Washington.

Slowly he grew stronger; year by year he pushed his explorations further into the rugged mountains of the Pacific Northwest.

He learned great lessons from the mountains and in beautiful prose he captures their lofty dignity and beauty. He found serenity and a stronger life, and he learned, too, how to lose his fear of death. In losing it he found he had freedom to live.

The book discusses such matters as fly fishing versus bait fishing, the art of cooking trout (never fry a trout unless you have bear oil!) there is a mouth-watering chapter on food, and last, but never least, he introduces us to some of the odd characters he has met in a lifetime of climbing his beloved mountains.

There was an old Scot, in particular, Billy McGuffie. McGuffie was a born story-teller. It seems one night McGuffie visited Spokane after a hard day loading sheep. Almost the first person he met was a Salvation Army girl who shook her tambourine under his nose.

"What dae ye want, lassie?" he asked.
 "Some money for the Lord."
 "How old are ye, lassie?"
 "Eighteen," she told him.

"Well, noo," he said, "I'm eighty-seven, and I'll be seein' the Lord lang afore ye. I'll just gie him the penny myself!"

Ladies invited were: Mesdames W. Keith, Herbert Kelly, N. Davidson, Philip Saurenman, J. A. Rutledge, Harold Clardy, Charles Skutt, Howell White, Milton Goldberg, Kenneth Bush and Mac Cason of this city, and Mrs. Betty Summers of Arcadia.

There was an old Scot, in particular, Billy McGuffie. McGuffie was a born story-teller. It seems one night McGuffie visited Spokane after a hard day loading sheep. Almost the first person he met was a Salvation Army girl who shook her tambourine under his nose.

"What dae ye want, lassie?" he asked.
 "Some money for the Lord."
 "How old are ye, lassie?"
 "Eighteen," she told him.

"Well, noo," he said, "I'm eighty-seven, and I'll be seein' the Lord lang afore ye. I'll just gie him the penny myself!"

No, the Scotch are not stingy, just cautious!

Thurber's Avocado Tree Chosen for Special Study

Sierra Madre's famous avocado tree owned by Col Walter D. Thurber, 470 Manzanita, has been selected by the California Avocado Society for use in its research and experimental program. The tree, which bears from 6000 to 8000 avocados annually, is the first source of seeds to be registered by the society. It is known as Thurber's Registered Root-Stock No. 1.

Because of its unique value to the avocado industry, the Thurber tree has been insured by Lloyds of London. No other tree in this area, as far as can be ascertained, has ever been insured. Sierra Madrean Harry Lange conducted the negotiations with Lloyds on behalf of Colonel Thurber.

The tree and its progeny for the past three years has been carefully studied and found to be freeze-resistant and, so far as can be determined at this time, free from all known diseases. Seeds from this rare tree show a 95 per cent germination record and more than 90 per cent "bud-take."

According to Marvin B. Rounds of Glendora, president of the California Avocado Society, the research and experimental program is planned for the purpose of determining which avocado varieties produce best in various soils and which varieties are best suited for various types of root stocks. The University of California at Los Angeles is actively co-operating with the society in this work which will benefit the entire avocado industry. Samples from carefully-selected root-stock and budding varieties are being used in these tests.

Shopping Bag Buys

Super Save Market

Sale of Super Save Market, 7 E. Huntington Drive, was disclosed this week by owners Everett and Charles Nugent.

The building and surrounding land were purchased by the Shopping Bag Markets who will begin remodeling work immediately.

Both the 10,000-square-foot building, with its 100-foot frontage on Huntington Drive, and the 55-by-151-foot parking lot in the rear were sold by the owners, Mr. Watt, Mrs. Dorothy Watt, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nugent.

The property was acquired by the former owners in 1943 and opened in 1948 as a Mayfair Market, which later was turned into Super Save.

Officials of the Shopping Bag chain this week said purchase of this market as well as the Super Save Market on Foothill in Monrovia, will not change their plans to build another super market on the southeast corner of Santa Anita and Foothill in Arcadia. Work on this project will begin July 1.

Super Save Market advertising for some time had been a regular feature in the NEWS. This advertising will not appear until after the transaction and remodeling are completed later this summer.

ANNOUNCEMENT — On or about the 1st of July, I will move to 471 E. Grandview.

Mr., Mrs. Andrew Olsen Mark Golden Anniversary

One of Sierra Madre's pioneer couples, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Olsen of 37 Suffolk, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary June 3 with a family party at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Olsen of San Marino.

The Olsens came to live in Sierra Madre shortly after their marriage in Portland, Oregon, June 3, 1900. From 1906 until his retirement in 1921, Mr. Olsen operated a feed, fuel and transfer business on East Montecito (present site of the Bevin Pottery).

Mr. Olsen first came here in 1888 and purchased land on the south side of Suffolk Avenue, where he planted orange trees. He and Mrs. Olsen (the former Mathilda Halstead of North Dakota) met here in 1898 at the old Congregational Church.

The Olsens have two children, Mrs. Clarence Wilson of Pasadena and William Olsen of San Marino, and two grandchildren, David Olson, 7, and Lois Wilson, 23.

His father owned and operated the four-passenger livery which met the station and carried passengers throughout the town. He recalled that in the case of fires his father hitched his team to the hose cart and followed the fire wagon. Mr. Slater resides in Denver.

Morticians 'Bury' VFW Softballers

Sierra Madre's VFW softball team was dislodged from its first-place position last Wednesday evening in Owl League AA-1 play at Brookside Park.

In what turned out to be the thriller of the evening, Ives and Warren surprised the locals with a 3-2 victory. Defeat of the Sierra Madre vets came in the second inning when the Pasadena morticians bunched two hits, a hit batsman, and a fielder's choice to earn two runs.

A last inning threat by the local softballers fizzled when an attempted bunt failed.

MENTAL STIMULUS

School children and youth are taught the harmful effects of alcohol and tobacco on the body and the brain (California Law). How much is accomplished when parents and also law enforcing officers indulge in both and quite often to extreme? Laws are violated over and over in these and other fields.

Can we expect other than anarchy (wolf packs) from juveniles?

If adults do not use their inherent intelligence, can we expect juveniles to use theirs? Is it good policy to tell children and youth "Do as I say, not as I do?"

AMUSEMENTS and THEATRE

AUTO CLUB'S TRIP OF THE WEEK

A Day in SAN DIEGO

The allure and romance that is San Diego's is born of no artificiality, for historically it dates back to the advent of civilization in California, and from that distant time is traced much of the culture and color that today blend perfectly with the tempo of this interesting city. A day here is a meager period to see all of the scenic and historic attractions, but one may find a representative slice by visiting some of the points of interest noted herein.

● Motorists approaching the border city via U.S. 101 may view some of the world's most magnificent shoreline scenery. Towns like Oceanside, Carlsbad, and Del Mar are strikingly picturesque, and well worth a stop if time allows...

● The famed artists' colony of La Jolla is an entrancing resort community. Look for the quaint caves here, which the pounding sea has carved into the rocky cliffs...

● What Plymouth Rock is to the Atlantic Coast, Old San Diego, "where California began," is to the Pacific. Here may be found many of the original adobe houses of the early Spanish settlers, including the renowned "Ramona's Wedding Place" (lower photo). Nearby Point Loma is a veritable sightseers' paradise with its many significant panoramas and historically interesting landmarks...

● No trip to San Diego is complete without a visit to the magnificent zoo in Balboa Park. Here, the animals are confined under conditions resembling their natural jungle surroundings. Balboa Park also offers many other interesting attractions for visitors...

X-RAYS OFFERED AT MONROVIA

During the week of June 19, equipment will be set up in the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School auditorium. During the week of June 26, the x-ray equipment will be maintained at the Duarte Health and Welfare Center. Hours for both weeks will be as follows: Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, 9:30 to 3:30; and Wednesday, from 1 to 7 p. m. Dr. Burski said all residents over 15 years of age are urged to take advantage of this opportunity. (Editor's note: The County Health Center's x-ray service is not to be confused with the campaign X-Ray Survey Foundation is conducting to x-ray every resident in the county.)

Worship, hike, eat with your children, next Sunday morning at 8—Monrovia Canyon Park.—(Adv.)

The protrusions, such as welding, with both spigot and bell for this one inch of fit shall be ground flush. The pipe as manufactured, shall not have more than one seam per section either longitudinal or circumferential.

The time of delivery shall be 400 feet in 30 days; 400 feet in 45 days. Attention is directed to Specifications regarding Time of Delivery. Delivery of 400 feet is required within 30 days after mailing of award of bid to the successful bidder. Balance to be delivered within 45 days.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids not deemed advantageous to the City of Sierra Madre.

By order of the City Council.

TRIP OF THE WEEK

A Day in SAN DIEGO

The allure and romance that is San Diego is born of no artificiality, for historically it dates back to the advent of civilization in California, and from that distant time is traced much of the culture and color that today blend perfectly with the tempo of this interesting city. A day here is a meager period to see all of the scenic and historic attractions, but one may find a representative slice by visiting some of the points of interest noted herein.

● Motorists approaching the border city via U.S. 101 may view some of the world's most magnificent shoreline scenery. Towns like Oceanside, Carlsbad, and Del Mar are strikingly picturesque, and well worth a stop if time allows...

● The famed artists' colony of La Jolla is an entrancing resort community. Look for the quaint caves here, which the pounding sea has carved into the rocky cliffs...

● What Plymouth Rock is to the Atlantic Coast, Old San Diego, "where California began," is to the Pacific. Here may be found many of the original adobe houses of the early Spanish settlers, including the renowned "Ramona's Wedding Place" (lower photo). Nearby Point Loma is a veritable sightseers' paradise with its many significant panoramas and historically interesting landmarks...

● No trip to San Diego is complete without a visit to the magnificent zoo in Balboa Park. Here, the animals are confined under conditions resembling their natural jungle surroundings. Balboa Park also offers many other interesting attractions for visitors...

DECATUR COUNTY PICNIC PLANNED

President Margaret Howard this week called former Decatur County, Iowa, residents and friends to attend their 29th annual picnic Sunday, June 18, at McArthur Park, Los Angeles. Iowans will enjoy a picnic lunch at 1 p. m. Coffee will be served.
